Battle Lake Murderer Arrested.

A telegram from Winnipeg of this morning says:

"Chas. Bullock, has been arrested at Great Falls, Montana, on a charge of murdering Leon Stainton, of Kalamazoo, while hunting land north of Calgary."

It will be remembered that early last summer the body of a man was found near Battle Lake, east of Ponoka. The body had been buried in a shallow grave and an examination pointed conclusively to murder. For a time it seemed that it would remain one of the mysteries, but evidently Canadian justice has been quickly busy, with the result noted above. From information already secured there can be no difficulty in bringing the murder home to Bullock, once his identity is established. He travelled all the way from Kalamazoo, Michigan, with the murdered man, and killed him for the money he had on him, just before reaching the house to which they were heading, while looking for homestead land.

OATS.

Another week of boom prices for oats has resulted in continued large deliveries. On Monday the price showed a tendency to increase over the 25c and 26c paid during the previous week. On Tuesday when the announcement of the advance in the government price had been made the market price climbed still further and it was not long in reaching 27c in Edmonton and 28c in Strathcona, a cent above the contract. The remarkable thing was that it did not stop there in Edmonton. While 28c bought the oats at Strathcona, Leduc and Wetaskiwin the Edmonton price kept growing. From 27c on Tuesday it rose to 28c on Wednesday, 28 1/2c on Thursday and 29c on Friday, and Saturday. This showed clearly that the price was based on boom rather than on value, especially as buyers were anything but particular as to cleaning. Twenty-seven cents at Edmonton is generally accepted as equal to 28c at railway points, as it costs, and is usually considered worth a cent a bushel to haul across to the station. In previous years, and up to the present during this year, prices were always fixed on that basis. But when a cent more is paid at Edmonton than at Strathcona—as was the case on Friday it shows a strong speculative spirit which may or may not be justified. Clearly if the Edmonton price is only fair prices down the line are not good enough. Deliveries were light on Monday as they usually are, but were heavy on Tuesday and Wednesday, becoming lighter on Thursday and Friday and becoming very large on Saturday. With prices jumping up so unaccountably every day it could only be expected that some particularly optimistic farmers should begin to hold, to see how high they would go before selling.

There has been an impression that the corn shortage in the States was the cause of the sudden rise in the demand for oats. But the Chicago price on Nov. 20th for December delivery was 28c to 40c, and about a cent higher for May delivery. With the duty against us this is less than the price now being paid at Edmonton if there was no freight to pay. The strength of the market appears to be in Eastern Canada. On Nov. 16th, No. 2 white oats were quoted at 49 1/2c to 51c at Montreal, and the market strong. The Winnipeg quotation for the same date was 38c on the track. This would indicate that the Manitoba purchases were to supply an eastern demand, at good round figures. It would seem that while there has been a fair crop of oats in Manitoba, the quality is poor. In Eastern Canada the crop is apparently short, or else a demand has been created by the impossibility of getting corn from the States to fill requirements formerly filled by imports from corn. It would seem that North Alberta has the only surplus oats of export quality on the continent this season. The government contract advertised the fact, and the attention of consumers has been drawn directly to the source of supply, with the somewhat unexpected, but not less desirable results that has been attained. The little supply for export is perhaps two million and perhaps three million bushels. He would be a very hopeful person who would estimate a higher amount. No doubt the present boom is occasioned by the efforts of the Manitoba grain combine to corner this supply and so control the market for the rest of the year. Had it not been for the government contract coming on so early in the season there is no reason why the Alberta crop should not have been cornered at 20c or less, instead of at 25c and 30c, and possibly more.

Of course the government contract is not being filled. It cannot be at the price. And will not be unless the price comes down, which no one wishes to occur. Just what will happen when the time for the contract has expired no one can predict just now. The oats purchased may already have passed into the hands of consumers. In that case all will be well. But if a great part of the oats are still in the hands of the combine they can be used to depress the price of what remains in farmers' hands. It is worth remembering that the actual supply and demand does not always absolutely fix the price when there is a powerful interest such as the Manitoba grain combine at work.

In any case grain shipped east as far as Winnipeg is less available for the supply of Kootenay than it remained here, leaving that much better chance for the grain remaining in farmers' hands.

Just whether the farmer should sell now or wait for still higher prices is the question uppermost in most minds, and the Bulletin does not presume to answer. It is a safe general rule to sell when prices are good. Although they may be better they may also be worse. Every man must measure the chances for himself. Clearly had it not been for the government contract the present prices would not have been realized. That much is shown by the general advance as soon as the contract price was advanced. If the contract is not filled, when its time has expired, the actual conditions as to supply and demand are as though no contract had been made, and there is a possibility of a drop back to the market condition which prevailed before it was made. Anything over 25c is a very good price for oats in this district and the farmer who sells at such prices is not losing money. The more he sells now the more he helps to keep up the price for the balance of his holdings.

Something of the nature of the boom in prices may be judged by the fact that prices were stood at 26c in Edmonton during Friday, and opened at the same figure on Saturday, had dropped to 28 1/2c at noon and closed at 27c at night.

THANKSGIVING.

Thursday next is set apart as a day of national thanksgiving in Canada. If ever a country in any season had reason to be thankful this is the country, and this the season. Speaking of Northern Alberta, there is a combination of good crops and good prices all too seldom experienced. And all the more appreciated because both have been to some extent a surprise. There is, however, a feeling that holidays are getting so frequent in this country as to be something of a nuisance. As a consequence some that should be not observed. A notable instance was that of the birthday of the reigning sovereign. Although a statutory holiday it was not observed except officially. Coming so close to thanksgiving, the observance of which has become customary, people did not feel that they could afford two holidays so close together. Although an imported festival, there is a certain appropriateness in the observance of thanksgiving in the early winter, which appeals with some force to the public mind. As the King's birthday occurs so short a time before the usual date of thanksgiving it would seem to be a fair proposition to celebrate future thanksgivings on that day during the life of the present King.

BUILDING OPERATIONS FOR 1901.

The year now drawing to a close outstrips its predecessor in the number and the aggregate value of buildings erected in town. Last January in reviewing the building of 1900 the Bulletin estimated the total value of the buildings erected and of the improvements made during the year at $100,000. A conservative estimate for the present year is $125,000, and if it were possible to find exactly the cost of each addition, improvement, and erection in town the aggregate value would probably reach $150,000.

The bulk of the money spent in building during the year has been spent on residences, churches and schools. The erection of residences may in a measure be due to the constant stream of newcomers who have taken up their residence in town during the summer. But it is also an evidence of the permanence of the town and of the faith of the citizens in its future. The erection of business blocks may be a matter of necessity but men do not make for themselves permanent and expensive homes in a town whose future they have no faith. And by working in this faith the people of Edmonton have been taking the most certain means of making their faith well-founded.

The following list of buildings erected and improvements made has been prepared with care and the cost when possible learned from contractors or architects. When this was not possible an estimate has been secured from some competent party. But absolute accuracy in a matter of this kind is impossible and it is possible that some estimates will be found too low, or that some operations have been missed altogether.

FREIGHT RATES ON WHITE PASS RAIL.

Free Press: Skagway being at present by virtue of "quarantine sovereignty" United States territory, and likely so to remain for some time unless the Imperial government shows an inclination it has not shown yet to insist upon a proper settlement of the claims made by the Washington government in regard to the Alaska boundary—the White Pass railroad begins outside the limits of the Dominion. It does not run many miles, however, before it enters what is beyond question Canadian territory and from the height of land to its inland terminus the line is under the operation of the laws of the Dominion. One of these is the railway act, by a provision of which the rates charged for carrying passengers and freight must first have the approval of the governor-in-council, before they can be collected. This useful provision—from the operation of which the Canadian Pacific railway was especially exempted by the charter granted by the government of Sir John Macdonald—is about to be enforced in the case of the White Pass railroad. Inquiries instituted by the minister of the interior have developed the fact, as the despatches state, that the freight rates charged on this line are altogether exorbitant, and, moreover, not having been sanctioned at Ottawa as the law provides, they have not been collected under any authority of law, the company having apparently acted in disregard of the statute governing. The minister of railways, acting upon the application of the minister of the interior, has now notified the company that the schedule of rates it has submitted will not be authorized, and that a very considerable reduction will be required. Concurrently with this notification the company has been peremptorily warned that in the future the rates it has been charging it has been violating the law and that such violation of the law must cease.

The action of the federal authorities in this regard is such as must commend itself to the approval of all, except possibly the shareholders of the White Pass railroad, or of those who do not see why the management should not put into operation the principle of the "freight rates" "all that the traffic will bear."

YUKON NEWS.

Victoria Colonist: According to reports received from Dawson, under date of October 23rd, the new executive mission, the home of the governor of Yukon territory, has just been finished at a cost in round figures for the structure and its furnishings complete of $15,000. The building will move in this week, but owing to the fact that Mrs. Ross and child and niece were drowned in the landslide wreck the governor will hold no formal reception. The handsome two-story structure is heated by air, lighted by electricity, and supplied with all modern conveniences. Many heavy steam boilers, to be used in operating steam thawing plants, are awaiting transportation from Dawson to the creeks. There are perhaps four to five million dollars worth of mining machinery in use in the camp. A year ago the valuation was placed at $3,000,000.

The court of revision is hearing appeals in protest against the assessments on Dawson. The government intends to raise $85,000 by taxation in Dawson for the fiscal year of 1902. Land, personal property, buildings and all income by salary in excess of $2,000 a year are subject to the tax. The rate of assessment will be struck after the assessment rolls are revised by the court of appeals.

According to passengers on the Dolphin, Henry Cross met a violent death November 6, at Camp One, on the White Pass & Yukon route. He was at work on the track when an engine backed up and jammed him against some iron pipes which were handling. He sustained internal injuries from which he died a few hours later. Cross was a German, 50 years old. He was an employee of the White Pass road.

The collapse of the Gladbach copper mine wharf at Ellsworth, Alaska, about the first of this month, has been reported by officers of the steamer Bertha, which has arrived at Seattle from Valdez. Copper ore valued at $5,000, which was swung overboard, went down, entailing a loss including damage to the wharf of about $12,000. Losses caused the collapse.

A THIRD CONTINGENT.

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—If the Imperial government wishes to raise in this country another force for service in South Africa, it will be commanded and recruited by officers named by the government of Canada. Cables passing between Ottawa and the War Office clearly indicate that the Imperial authorities would be glad to avail themselves of services of more Canadians, and that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, minister of militia, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier are on their way back to the capital for a cabinet council to deal with the question. It goes without saying that if the British government is now desirous of enlisting more Canadians, the government of this country will give its ready assistance in raising the corps. The public will not have to wait long for full particulars in this matter. In the meantime it is practically certain that an opportunity will be afforded for the young men who desire South African service to come forward in support of the enlistment. It will cause, it is probable, probably chiefly from Manitoba and the west.

THE "BOARIN" GAME BEGUN.

The curling club open the season under the most favorable circumstances and have hopes for a good winter's sport. The weather of the past fortnight has been so utilized that the ice is already in good condition, and the sport is getting under way in good time, with prospects for many an interesting scrimmage among the various rinks. It is expected too that during the winter games will be arranged with Innisfail, Fort Saskatchewan, Strathcona and other outside points.

To the uninitiated probably no game is so simple as curling, and hence none seems so uninteresting to the casual observer. There is not an atom of mystery in the game, nor is the manner of counting scores difficult, for anyone might guess that the object of each side was to collect as many stones as possible near the "pot-hole." But it seems such a common place thing—greatest of all things in this world of grey bearded men to slide flat stones along the ice at a spot indicated by the position of a broom that the outsider wonders where the same grey-bearded boys get enthusiasm enough in the business to loop sideways down the ice shouting and cheering for life, and then should the stone stop on that same desired spot, whoop like Sioux and dance and perform windmill evolutions with their broom-handles at the peril of adjacent heads and innards. When a stone has shivered out a few games, however, and endeavored to be interested in them for charity's sake he finds that the lack of interest at first apparent was really the lack of the interest which attaches to the element of chance. Probably in no other form of amusement is chance so completely eradicated and the mastery so entirely accorded to skill and steadiness. Realizing this one understands the exuberance of feeling which transforms the staidness of age to the expressiveness of youth when a difficult shot is made and the hand and eye co-ordinate which pervades the face of some veteran when the stone runs wild. He also begins to understand where the interest is in the game line and that victory is not the gift of vacillating fortune but the reward of honest effort and hard earned skill.

The membership of the club is divided into rinks, each under the direction of a skip, and the various competitions open to members of the club are contested by these rinks in turn. The skips for the present season are Messrs. McDonald, McCallister, W. G. H. McCallister, J. C. Dowsett, T. G. Lauder, H. H. Goodwin, J. E. Mercer, E. Fraser, H. W. Richardson, A. C. Fraser, S. G. Jellett, S. Larue, J. McCallister, W. G. Sutter, and G. J. Ryan. Each skip chooses the players in his rink and these remain throughout the season. Four players besides the skip comprise a rink and it is a rule of the club that no rink shall have a green player. So far fifteen rinks have been formed for the present season.

The club enters the season with a membership roll of seventy-seven and when the recruits are all in line will muster considerably over eighty members. The officers for the year are: Patron, Mr. McCallister; M. L. A. president, W. G. H. McCallister; 1st vice-president, J. E. Mercer; 2nd vice-president, W. B. Richardson; sec.-treas., A. C. Fraser; chaplain, Rev. D. G. McQueen; the executive committee consists of Messrs. McDonald, A. C. Harrison, J. H. Johnson, H. W. Campbell, and J. R. Harper.

The club have ruled that all games and the ice curling they are to be played must be posted by the committee five days before the dates of contest and the games must be played on the days posted or forfeited. The first contest this year will be for the Calgary Brewing cup and four individual prizes will be contested. This will be a game in two sections, representing the president and vice-president of the club, the winners in each section to "play off" the final, the best two in three games deciding the contest.

RAMPING FOR ROBBERY.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 19.—Will Dorsey, a negro, has been sentenced to hang for highway robbery. The consensus of legal opinion here is that the sentence will establish a precedent which will be the means of bringing order into many settlements in this state hitherto given over to lawlessness.

MACLEOD.

Advocate, Nov. 19. The people of the Carleton district will take a vote on Nov. 30th to decide whether or not liquor licenses shall be issued or granted in license district No. 11.

The magistrates and lawyers in town have been kept busy during the past few days. Unscrupulous parties have been exploiting Indians with whiskey over thirty cases of drunkenness and set them having come up for trial. It is satisfactory to know that those supplying the liquor have been also arrested.

Mr. A. J. McLean made another large shipment of cattle on Monday of last week, 178 head being sent from his place, Creek and 68 head from Woodpecker. The cattle which were inspected by Staff-Sergeant Fraser, of the N. W. M. P., go to Hochelaga.

The fire which swept over the Little Bow country will be long remembered. Parties arriving here from that part report that even the fleet-footed antelope fell victims to the wrath of the fire king. A stockman whose cattle numbered a thousand head last spring has only been able to gather some 700 head since the fire passed over. Whether the animals were destroyed scattered far and wide over the country untouched by the fire, remain to be seen. Cattle having their eyeballs charred, wandered aimlessly about the blackened prairie in search of feed which did not exist.

ACCIDENT TO MR. CAMSELL.

Winnipeg Tribune, Nov. 19. Mr. E. Camsell, at the general hospital in a critical condition as the result of a fall Saturday evening he was at a north end hotel, and while going down stairs, was struck by a heavy chair, fell resulting in a fractured skull, and Dr. Montgomery, who is in attendance, considers the case a serious one.

BIG KLONDIKE DEAL.

At Seattle despatch of Nov. 16th, says—One of the largest mining deals in the history of the Klondike, noted for large transactions, occurred in this city. Col. William A. Oliphant, representing an Indiana syndicate, purchased 24 acres of land for a consideration of $750,000. A cash payment of $400,000 was made. The remainder of the purchase price, $350,000, was given in stock of the company acquiring the property. The claims sold were owned by various persons, nearly all of whom are or have been operating in the Klondike. The ground includes nearly all of Gold Hill, which long ago demonstrated its richness. Many of the properties are bench or hillside claims.

HORSES DYING.

Winnipeg Tribune. There is a great deal of disease among horses at the present time. The principal ailment is a low form of typhoid influenza and croupous pneumonia. A prominent local veterinarian questions the matter to-day said that fully 5 per cent of the horses in the city had died from it and made and expressed the rate would be much higher in the country, where there is less facility for taking care of them, and getting proper medical aid.

There is also another disease which has caused great ravages among horses in this country known as swamp fever. This is a form of malaria, and is one of those insidious diseases which show very few symptoms until it is too late to check it. A horse with this disease will continue to eat, but fails until he gets into an emaciated condition when medicine is of very little avail. The symptoms of this last named disease are: A very pallid condition of the gums, the mucous membrane of the eye and nose, general listlessness with head hanging, and swelling of the extremities. In later stages weakness of the heart's action, elevation of the temperature and partial paralysis will show itself.

Times, W. P. Martin went to Edmonton hospital on Thursday's train of last week to enable the doctors there to hold a consultation with Dr. Walker over his fractured ankle, which of late has not been healing as well as was hoped for. He returned on Saturday's train. Mr. Martin's many friends will be pleased to learn that in all probability his foot will be saved, and that the last few days he is feeling much better.

PRINCE ALBERT.

Advocate: A special meeting of the board of trade was held in the council chamber on Thursday afternoon. The discussion on that occasion was chiefly in connection with the advent of the Canadian Northern, and a committee was appointed to draft a proposition for leasing the company to establish a divisional workshop along with a divisional point at Prince Albert. The matter of acquisition of logs into the district also came into, and a committee was appointed to make inquiries relative to the supply of oats to the government was also discussed, but no action was taken.

MEDICINE HAT.

Nov. 21. This week J. C. Colter struck a flow of natural gas in the well he is drilling on his property in the center of the town. This makes the sixth flowing natural gas well at Medicine Hat. Natural gas has been found in every well drilled here.

The carload of six inch pipe for the natural gas wells arrived on Monday. The car contained 2800 feet of six inch pipe, which will be used in the six inch well, or could be used on the belt line.

A FRISKY STEER.

Red Deer Echo: A most amusing incident took place a couple of days ago at Red Deer on Tuesday afternoon last when a stag belonging to Mrs. J. A. Whitcomb, of Penhold, attached the engine of a freight train and held the train up for about an hour, running the train hands on spurs and for the cab whenever they showed themselves, and making every other thing generally interesting. We certainly admit that the train's nerve, but after getting all the fun it could out of the train crew it proceeded to enter a couple of people, and a few other farmers who were en route for Red Deer, their market town, one riding a pony the other a horse. The angry animal selected the mule for a first encounter and proceeded forthwith to roll the mule over the side of the track to the discomfiture of the rider, Hugh McEwen. Hugh is slightly disfigured but not in the ring.

C. N. R. CONSTRUCTION.

Tribune: Work is now rushing on the construction of the C. N. R. A gentleman who has lately arrived from the United States states that Contractor Stewart is now well supplied with men. The branch line in Manitoba, having been completed and the work being more plentiful, great progress is being made. Mr. Stewart expects that the grading work will be completed by Jan. 10. The bridge work is also being rushed ahead, and it is expected that it will be completed in a few days. The steel laying is now going ahead steadily. Superintendents at this end, putting in a mile and a half a day. This work is also to be commenced from the Fort Frances end again to-day, when Hugh Mann's portable steam engine will be used. With the weather and the increase of men, the road should be completed early in February.

THE VERON SENSATION.

Wapetok, Nov. 24.—The report of the plot to overthrow the government of the Yukon and establish a republic there is credited by John A. Macdonald, who has just returned from Dawson City, "For some time past there have been agitators at work among the miners, who have tried to stir up a revolution. Shortly before leaving I attended what was called a meeting, held in the old opera house. I was both shocked and disgusted to be compelled to listen to a certain lawyer making treasonable addresses, and giving miners treasonable advice, which, if a conspiracy as reported in the telegrams. This man said just what I thought that it was a mistake that had not been shown in the past when there was trouble, and when the miners had the police corralled. It would now have to be done over again, and he urged miners to take themselves, seize the White Pass, prevent the Canadian government from sending in troops and govern the country themselves. There are only about 20 mounted police in the Yukon and the miners could easily raise 5000 men on short notice ready and armed for eventualities." Macdonald would not be surprised at any news from Dawson.

AT THE LOOPS.

Macdonald: Advance. The workmen engaged in raising a 1000 foot trestle through the point of a mountain near the Loop celebrated for the frequency of its landslides, expect to have accomplished their task in about a week's time. The work is extremely dangerous owing to the fact that the trestle will be necessary to cement the tunnel sides and top from one end to the other in order to prevent slides and accidents due to the vibration of trains passing through the tunnel, which would cause, if not lost to life, but would cause trouble and delay to traffic over the line of the Crow's Nest Pass railway.

CAR SHOUTING IN MANITOBA.

Neepawa Press: The continued shortage of cars is proving a serious handicap to the farmers and business men. It takes a difference of three or four cents a bushel between the price of wheat, which not only affects the cash circulation in the district but prevents many a man from purchasing necessities as he cannot get his wheat to market. Those who can hold their wheat will do so, which also curtails the amount of circulating medium. Whether the situation is decidedly improving.

CURLING.

The following matches will be played during the week for the Calgary Bowling Co's cup.

Wednesday evening: Downett vs. Ibbotson. Fraser vs. Mercer.
Thursday evening: McDonald vs. Raymer. Laiden vs. Sutter.
Friday evening: McCauley vs. McIntyre. Larue vs. Bryan.
Saturday evening: Jellett vs. Mercer. McIntyre vs. Ibbotson.

STRATHCONA.

Plaindealer, Nov. 22. The annual meeting of the South Edmonton agricultural society is appointed to be held in the town hall, Strathcona, at 2 p. m. on Wednesday, Dec. 4th.

W. J. Sharples met with the first hockey accident of the season on Saturday evening last, being struck a severe blow on the head with the puck. A gash an inch and a half long was inflicted and Mr. Sharples suffered considerable loss of blood, but is regaining his strength.

Mrs. McDonald, wife of Pastor A. McDonald, is ill this week with pneumonia. Her condition is critical but hopes of her recovery are entertained.

Mr. J. D. Hutton is opening up his book and stationery stock in the building next door to McLean & Co. hardware, formerly occupied by G. W. Bradley as a barber shop.

A hockey match is being arranged for the evening of Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 28th, 1901, between the town and school teams of Strathcona, to be played at the Shamrock rink, Strathcona. A good game is anticipated. Strathcona has still two fever patients at the public hospital in Edmonton. Mr. Chas. Cover and Mr. Loftus Boyle. Mr. Cover has had a long siege of it, suffered a relapse, but hopes to be out in a week or two. Mr. Boyle was taken down this week with a mild form of the disease. He is doing as well as can be expected and is reported a little better this morning. Miss Matthews was discharged some time ago. Mr. McLaggan and Mr. Hight were released early last week. Mr. McCauley was allowed to leave the hospital on Tuesday and with his family has taken rooms at Mr. Powell's on Fraser Ave., Edmonton.

EASTERN EXCURSIONS.

The C. P. R. will have about twenty tourist sleepers in use for the Christmas holiday traffic. These sleepers are excellently fitted and are practically in general appointment similar to the Canadian Pacific palaces. In each tourist sleeper there is a couple of private, well-appointed berths. When these berths are made up at night each is enclosed by movable section partitions on the two ends and by curtains in front, ensuring perfect seclusion to the occupants. The tourist sleeper has every convenience necessary for travel, including facilities for smoking, detachable tables for luncheons, etc. The aisle of the car is heavily carpeted. The C. P. R. inaugurated this excellent service some years ago in order to provide the people of the West and the Northwest with means of going east to their old homes for Christmas holidays, with wholesome and comfortable sleeping accommodations at a nominal charge.

SCRIP COMMISSION.

The half-breed scrip commission closed its work in North Alberta at Lacombe on Friday last. Two hundred and sixty-four claims were presented at Edmonton and ninety-six at Lacombe. At Wetaskiwin thirty-two claims were presented and five scrip issued. At Lacombe fifteen claims were presented, but no scrip was issued.

The commission has gone to Winnipeg where it will be held to hear the claims of the half-breeds who have removed to Manitoba and whose claims have not yet been dealt with.

WE ARE NOT ALONE.

Neepawa Press: Our premier announced in July last that the Canadian Northern railway would haul Manitoba wheat to Lake Superior after Oct. 1st, 1901, at two cents a hundred less than the prevailing rate. The provincial treasurer gave his friends in Neepawa the most positive assurance that the railway would not reach this town this year and carry out a good share of the 1901 wheat crop at the reduced rate. But the railway is not yet built to Lake Superior. There is no reduced wheat rate, but instead there are increased rates on local traffic between here and all points in the Dauphin district; there is no likelihood of the C. N. R. carrying a bushel of Manitoba's 1901 crop at reduced rates.

THRASHING FROM STOOK.

Neepawa Press: Thrashing from the stook was still going on in this district last week but will likely be finished this week. The wheat is turning out No. 1 hard, too, whereas much of the stooked grain is inferior. Now it is up to the sick farmers to get all they have said about thrashing from the stook.

AMERICANS ARE PARTICULAR.

Montreal, Nov. 19.—The U. S. government is taking stricter precautions against the importation of undesirable aliens. A committee of 5 experts and a medical man has been appointed for the Montreal district to inspect all persons about to go to the States. It is understood that this action is largely due to the fact that a large number of persons who went west during the C. P. R. strike are now returning on their way to the Pennsylvania coal fields where strikes are impending. Only the best of these from a physical standpoint will be allowed to go across the border; all others will be refused admission. Many Italians are being sent back to Italy.

THE BUTCHER'S BILL.

London, Nov. 18.—Lord Kitchenborough, calling to-day to the war office from Pretoria, reports that since Nov. 7 the British columns have killed 43 and wounded 16 Boers and that 297 have been taken prisoners.

DEATH FROM FEVER.

The military department is advised of the death from enteric fever at Kimberley, of Abraham W. Armenden, South African consular, whose next of kin is Henry Armenden, of Melita, Mann.
